

IMPROVE YOUR OUTPUT WITH OUR INPUT

We can help your business compete by finding the right training for your staff

Train to Gain is a one-stop shop service from the Learning and Skills Council that ensures your business gains access to the training it needs to succeed.

By utilising Train to Gain, you can easily identify and implement the staff training needed to make your business more productive.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Train to Gain works in three main ways:

- Train to Gain works with you to identify your training needs
- Train to Gain then helps you choose the best training provider to fit those training needs
- Finally, Train to Gain will help you get the best value for money, and identify any available funding

THE ANSWERS TO YOUR BUSINESS QUESTIONS

I know we need to improve the skills of our staff, but how do I work out what training I need?

Train to Gain gives your business a completely impartial, free and independent skills needs analysis to identify what you require for now and in the future. This will be done by one of our expert Skills Brokers.

There are so many training providers, how do I choose the right one for us?

Train to Gain will recommend the right training solutions for your business. Skills Brokers are not bound to use Train to Gain training providers, just the best one for your needs.

I need to make sure we get the best return on investment. Where should we spend our money?

Train to Gain helps you get the best value for money. We'll help you to identify the best way to pay for training, and recommend any available funding such as Government, EU or local council funding.

Did you know...

- Training to help your employees gain their first, full Level 2 NVQ qualification is free
- Women employees can access a selection of heavily subsidised NVQ Level 3 qualifications
- If your company has less than 50 employees you could get a contribution to wage costs for the time spent in training
- £1,000 including VAT available towards leadership and Management training for Owners/Key Directors or Senior Managers with strategic responsibilities.

For more information or to arrange an appointment call 0800 634 0262 or visit www.traintogain.gov.uk